Hope not to need the fan, but I need START to open the adit and check the air the week you are there.

Hopefully they got the key from Russ for the lock on the adit door.

Looks like $60K was a good estimate. I don't have everything exactly known, but am probably long on hours due to being able to shuffle with GK. But...we'll hurt for that later so hopefully won't do too much of it. I estimated Russ's pump to cost approx the same as mine. Do we need a fan/large generator for RnB? I have the cost of the generator in the estimate, but need to get with Spendrup if we're providing the fan. I'm sure we talked about that but I lost it.
